James A. Reardon, president of the Reardon Glue Company, would not take a thousand dollars for the good EUPEPSIA TABLETS have done for him.

St. Louis, Mo., July 3, 1900.

Eupepsia Company:

Gentlemen-Three weeks ago I commenced taking EUPEPSIA TABLETS, and the first dose gave me immediate relief. From that time on I had no symptoms of dyspepsia, and after taking two weeks' treatment I considered myself cured. The truth is I would not take a thousand dollars for the good your medicine has done me.

CASS COUNTY DEMOCRAT ON MISSOURI CAMPAIGN.

SAYS REPUBLICANS HAVE LOST INTEREST.

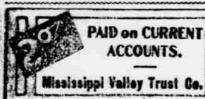

Farmers, He Declares, Pay No Attention to Colonel Flory-They Want Figures.

"I see the Republicans are discussing the campaign opening, which will be held at Sedalla, Tuesday, with the same old desire to frighten Democrats," said Jerry Cuiber-Seon, a leading Democrat of Cass County, who is at the Luclede. "It's the same old thing they attempted at Sedalia several times before. They want to stimulate the seem to be enthused down in my section of the State. They can't catch the spirit of the thing somehow. They have lost interest In the party for some cause or other, It may be the retirement of Chauncey I. Filley has something to do with it.

"Why, in my county it's hard to get a Corporal's guard out to a Republican meeting. Talking of apathy, the party has gone into a somnambuilstic trance that threatens to last until the campaign is over. The Republicans in the country districts are look-ing askance at a candidate for Governor that insists on taking a rallroad quadricycle to go over the State, instead of the middle of the road, as in previous campaigns. They are beginning to smile with the Democrats whenever the thing is mentioned. Farmers out my way don't take warmly to these new-fashioned folderols. They prefer to have facts and figures to study over in a quiet sort of fashion, that indicates a clear understanding. They want to know what is going on, of course, but they wouldn't touch a gubernatorial candidate on a bicy-cle with a ten-foot pole. It's too fudicrous—

"We've had enough experience with Re-publicanism in Misseuri in the Thirtyeighth General Assembly. I see Colonel Flory says that thousands of dollars were spent by the last Democratic Legislature. Colonel Flory sat in the office of the Rail-road and Warehouse Commission on a leather-bottomed chair throughout the ses-

the happy termination of the romance of Miss Rebecca Schropsky of No. 1922 North Tenth street, and her youthful sweetheart, Abe Browner, who lives at the same number. The couple were married at the bride's home by the Reverend Doctor H. J. Messing. Mr. and Mrs. Browner are at home today at No. 1922 North Tenth street. Few persons have had such a stormy experience just before their wedding as they. Through it all they were constant to each other, as they felt secure in the affection which was born four years ago in the dingy atmosphere of the Jefferson Night School. Browner is barely 21 years old, but he has seen a very successful tailor, and in the four years since he became acquainted with his bride, he has accumulated much money He came to this country from Austria when he was a mere boy, and his family immediately settled in St. Louis. As small children he and his wife frequently built mud houses together. Their families were very intimate, but one day something occurred to interrupt the harmony of their intercourse, and the children were told not to play with each other.

Browner's family moved away, and for a short period returned to their home in Europe. Several years ago they returned to this country. The mother remained in New York, while young Abe and his father came to St. Louis.

This time four years passed before Browner again met the young woman who is now his wife. The meeting was in the Jefferson Night School, which both of them attended. At that time Browner was only 17 years old and Miss Sckropsky 14. But that did not deter the young man from failing in love with her. He says he made up his mind as soon as he saw his pretty girl friend again that he would marry her. So he constituted himself her protector in school and would help her at her lessons, carry her books home and fight any of the boys who offended her. As his family had made up its differences with the Sckropskys there was no objection to the companion-

The ceremony took place on the day of Browner's twenty-first birthday. Unhappily, he had a quarrel with his father shortly before the betrothal, and the circumstances caused some of his relatives to make things unpleasant for him.

Therefore, when the young folks began to make preparations for their marriage, about a month ago, Browner's relatives about a mouth ago, Browner's relatives began to quarrel with him and made at-tempts to stop the welding in various ways. He called upon his brother-in-law, Louis Rosenblum, at No, 1695 Atchison place, on last Wednesday afternoon, and the altercation was resumed. Finally Rosenblum and the presentive histograms enblum and the prospective bridegroom had a fight, in which honors were about even.

But Bosenblum was vindictive, and when the next day he chanced to pass the barber shop where Browner was getting shaved he had blin arrested. The young man was immediately barled out. This incident has-tened the wedding. When Miss Sckropsky heard of it she instited upon an early wedling. And so they were married last even They are a handsome couple,

The wrecked train consisted of ten day coaches and was the first section of a large excursion made up of people from Bethlehem, Alientown and surrounding towns to Atlantic City. This section carried only those persons who fived in Bethlehem and Allentown, and left the Union Depot in Bethlehem at 6.05 a. m., exactly thirty-five minutes behind the milk train. The latter train consisted of two milk cars and two passenger coaches and had stopped at every station on the road from Bethlehem en route to Philadelphia. At 8.55 the milk train drew up at the milk platform at Hatfield, and in less than two minutes the special excursion train, running at the rate of thirty-five miles an hour, crashed into the rear of the milk train. The locumotive plowed through the two passenger coaches and crushed them as if they were eggshells. The milk car immediately in front was also bailly wrecked. Four persons, Godfrey Kaelin, his daughter Mamie, Haroid Landis and William Blackburn, in the passenger cars of the milk train, were almost instantly killed. Fortunately there were very few persons on this train.

Cars Demolished.

The excursion train was a picture of horror. The lecometive was a mass of bent and broken iron and firmly held the hodies of its engineer and fireman beneath its great weight. Behind the engine six of the ten cars were also a mass of weekage. The first cm was broken in twais, and the other five cars were thrown on their sides, completely demolished.

Nine persons were killed in the first two cars and the others in those coaches were badly malmed. As soon as the crash came a terrible cry crose from the smashed cars, and those who had not been injured quickly crawled or jumped from the cars, and went Cars Demolished. crawled or jumped from the cars, and went to the assistance of the injured. Many were pinned down by wreckage and had to be to the assistance of the injured. Many were pinned down by wreckage and had to be freed by the liberal use of axes. With three or four exceptions the dead were killed instantly, the others dying on their way to the hospitals. All the injured were first taken to a shed at the Hatfield station and the dead were removed to a barn. Messengers were sent to the nearby villages for physicians, and a relief train was telegraphed for from Bethleher. With fifteen doctors and half a dozen nurses a special train was sent from Bethlehem, but before it reached the scene of the wreck, it was signalled to return to Bethlehem, as a special carrying nearly all the injured had started for that pince. On the run from Hatfield to the hospital, three of the linjured died. Great truthle was experienced in keeping the relatives away from the injured on the train, so that the doctors gathered from near Hatfield could attend to the wounded.

Anxious Relatives.

The special train strived at Bethlehem at 11:20 and was met by fully 5:99 persons, all clamoring to get a bit of news of the wreek, or trying to learn whether loved ones were among the victims. The news of the wreek had reached Bethlehem at 8 o'clock and spread like wildfire. All the policemen of the town were gathered at the station, and it was with great difficulty that the injured were removed to the waiting ambulances and other vehicles which conveyed them to the hospitals. All during the day people from Allentown, Catasauqua and other places came pouring into Bethlehem, and confusion reigned throughout the day. The second section of the excursion, made up of persons from towns other than Bethlehem and Allentown, left soon after the first section, but was flagged before it reached Hattleld. As it could not get through on account of the blocked tracks, it was returned to Bethlehem, and there was great relocting at the narrow escape of its occupants from the catastrophe.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 2.—After mourning his first wife as dead, W. W. Howard, now sexton of the Oak Hill Cemetery on the Clear Lake road east of this city, has been surprised by a visit from her. For forty years he thought she was drowned while crossing a stream in Missouri.

The woman is Mrs. James Cooper of Le Roy, McLean County. Her second husband is dead. She is now visiting with her sister, who married Howard after his first wife hed disappeared. This is the first time she has seen them in the forty years she has been disappeared. This is the first time she has seen them in the forty years she has been disappeared. This is the first time she has seen them in the forty years she has been away.

The woman married Howard when the war of the Rebellion broke out. She was then Miss Rebecca Bedinger and lived in German Prairie. Soon after their marriage Howard enlisted to go to the front and his wife returned to German Prairie.

A short time before 1890 there came to that neighborhood from Missouri a family by the name of Hootons. They were related to Howard's wife.

In 1892 the Hootons moved back to Missouri and they were accompanied by James Cosper. About the time of their departure, Mrs. Howard disappeared with her only child, a daughter. When Howard returned from the war in 1894 he was surprised to find his wife and child had disappeared. He immediately instituted a search, and finally received informaton that they were drowned while crossing a stream in Missouri.

Mr. Howard afterwards remarried, and is now a grandfather several times by his present wife. Not long ago Arno R. Nauman of Le Roy came to Riverton, and in conversation with him disclosed the fact that Howard's first wife was still living and that she resided in McLean County, where she has lived ever since she left German Prairie in 1882. Nauman, who gave this information, had married Mrs. Cooper's daughter. Nauman called upon John Dixon, a half-brother to Mrs. Cooper, who immediately wrote to his sister, and the visit from her is the result. While Dixon is overjoyed to meet his sister, howard's circumstances have changed matters.
